

Provocation Reflective Practice

This is a process not a formula. Reflection is the path to understanding.

THE PROCESS

What really worked?

What supported children's play engagement?

What did not work?

What got in the way of the children's play momentum?

Where did you miss the mark?

What medium of expression (the 100 Languages) did the children use to express their ideas?

What opportunities might you have missed?

SELF REFLECTION

Where did you feel at ease in the process?

Where did you feel uncertain or questioned your next steps?

What stands out about this provocation for you?

Where do you feel you have blind spots or do not understand how to move with the process?

What stirred your heart?

What sparked your interest to know more?

If you choose one word for this experience, what would it be?
